

MEXICO TO SALUTE THE FLAG AND APOLOGIZE

Return Of Guns Is Not a Recognition Of the Huerta Regime

Halifax Will Build a Mill, Says Senator Kearns of Utah

Another mill for Tonopah is the assurance of Senator Thomas Kearns, of Salt Lake, one of the principal stockholders of the Halifax Tonopah Mining company, after he returned home from a visit to this state when he took up the future policy of the Halifax with B. E. Edwards, vice president of the West End.

An official statement from the senator appears in the Salt Lake Tribune, which arrived yesterday, and this is taken as authentic information, since that paper is owned by Senator Kearns and his associate, W. J. Keith. The Tribune article reads:

"While in Nevada Senator Kearns conferred with contractors relative to the construction of a large new mill on the Halifax-Tonopah property.

Estimates on the probable cost of the construction of the mill were received, but no action was taken relative to the time when the construction would begin. Senator Kearns, however, said that it was the purpose of the company to build the mill in the near future. The mine is apparently rich in ore, but the ore cannot be profitably handled until the new mill is put in operation."

This explains the change of front in the operations of the remodeled West End mill, where it was commonly supposed the Halifax would have fifty tons daily treated. This plan was supposed to become effective on the first of the month, but subsequent developments in the West End caused the management of that property to prefer using the entire battery of thirty stamps for their own ore, especially in view of the fact that development of the lower contact which may be cut in the shaft any day would give the West End an enormous tonnage, demanding exclusive use of the entire mill capacity.

The report from Salt Lake takes the Halifax back to the original plans which contemplated the erection of a mill right at the mine, where an abundance of water is available for running a mill handling 200 tons daily. This would materially reduce the cost of treatment, since use of the West End mill would involve trucking ore across the camp. In other words, the underground development of both properties has reached the limit of the mill capacity and the resolution to build another mill for the Halifax is a logical outcome of the congestion.

GEN. COXEY LEAVES HIS OHIO HOME WITH UNEMPLOYED

ON TO WASHINGTON TO TELL THEIR STORY BEFORE CONGRESS.

(By Associated Press.)
MASSILLON, O., April 16.—Headed by "General" and Mrs. Jacob Coxey in the phanton used on the original march twenty years ago, drawn by a mule, the second "army" of the unemployed, 200 strong, started to march to Washington to call on government officials for a remedy for the unemployed situation. Vagrants released from prison joined the "army." Rev. Harry Wilson, evangelist, offered an invocation, praying success for Coxey's programme. The "army" was accompanied by newspaper correspondents and moving picture operators.

WADING TO THE WAIST THROUGH SNOW IN MONTANA

Wednesday morning Charles Olds and the county farm drove H. L. Flacon and J. A. Murphy, two jolly Irish drummers, in from his place, where they had arrived just about "fucked out" after midnight Tuesday night, having made the trip from the coast ranch on foot—a little less than twelve hours being consumed, wading snow at waist deep, dragging their grips, and sometimes nearly ready to give up. Mr. Flacon says it is an experience he never wants to have again, and that only their Irish perseverance saved them. To make the matter still worse their walk was from boots, then on over bare, hot, then hot and cold and it was from Mr. Flacon and he died before their arrival in Bridgeport.—Chronicle Union.

No orders were issued to ships already steaming toward Mexico, nor has there been any change of plans for enforcing the president's demands.

Diplomatic representatives in Mexico City, on orders from their foreign offices, eager to avert a break, pressed Huerta to yield, and Mexico

Word of the promised rift in the storm clouds spread rapidly to the capitol, where house foreign affairs committee just had adopted a resolution sustaining the president in his attitude. There is a general feeling of relief in congress.

Senator Shively said it was later, national custom to return the salute demanded by Huerta. Such return could in no way be considered recognition of the Huerta regime, as the president was returning a salute to the state department. He referred to the case of the French consul in San Francisco in 1854, before a local court for violation of treaty. France demanded a salute and apology. This was compromised, the French fleet was sent to San Francisco, the French colors were saluted by a shore battery, the salute was returned by the French flagship, and the incident closed.

Senator Lodge, ranking Republican, differed with Shively and contended that when the salute was acknowledged, the apology was rendered useless. President Wilson said the United States would return the salute. He held no recognition would be involved.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 16.—President Wilson denied that during negotiations, prior to today, Huerta had offered to fire a salute. He said orders to the fleet hadn't been changed. It appeared Huerta's offer would be accepted.

In 1880 the total debt of Nevada at the close of the fiscal year, December 31, was $426,000; in 1890 it was $567,000; in 1912 it was $671,000. The population of the state was 62,000 in 1880, 43,000 in 1900, and 91,000 in 1912. In 1880 the per capita debt was $6.83; in 1890 it was $11.35; in 1900 it amounted to $15.17, but declined to $6.70 in 1912.

In contrast with the state of Nevada, we find that, taking the entire debt (less sinking fund assets) for the 48 states, the per capita debt, according to the latest report, is $3.52, or $2.18 less than the per capita debt for Nevada. Comparing the increase in the per capita debt of Nevada and the decrease for the 48 states for the 30-year period we find the ratio of increase for Nevada is just one-third the ratio of decrease for the 48 states, the $5.48 falling to $3.52 in the average for the 48 states, and $6.83 advanced to $6.70 in Nevada.

At the present time about 9.1 per cent of the total population of the United States will be found in the state of Nevada, and 0.2 per cent of the total debt (less sinking fund assets) is attributed to that state.

PHYSICIANS DESCRIBE INJURY RECEIVED BY FRECK LYDON

Drs. O'Neal and Cowden, of Tonopah, who attended the boxing contest at Goldfield Tuesday night, are of opinion that the blow which crippled Freck Lydon was a clear blow, as it was delivered over the ear, and not a glancing blow, and that the blow was from Mr. O'Neal and he died before their arrival in Bridgeport.—Chronicle Union.

MIDWAY WORKINGS OPEN GOOD ORE FROM OLD SHAFT

IN DRIFT FROM OLD SHAFT LIKELY LOOKING ONE PICKED UP.

In the northwest drift from the old shaft the Midway has opened a ledge that may have important bearing on the future of that property. The ledge is in new territory which the company has not prospected before and after the vein was opened yesterday another round of shots last night showed a considerable increase in size with values said to be above milling grade.

Manager Douglas confirmed the report this morning and said it would require a few days to determine the value of the strike, but it looked very good for a width of several feet and was growing better.

DROPPED DEAD AFTER SEEING HIS BROTHER LEAVE

WELL KNOWN PROSPECTOR DIES SUDDENLY THIS MORNING.

Tony Haag died suddenly this morning about 7:30 o'clock at the A. B. C. rooming house, a few minutes after seeing his brother off on a prospecting trip on which a party was bound. Haag occupied a cabin in rear of the A. B. C. and had been complaining for some time of not feeling well. However, he did not think his ailment sufficient to confine him to his room and he contented himself with getting a prescription from Dr. Cowden which gave him temporary relief.

This morning he rose earlier than usual, as his brother, Al Haag, was leaving by automobile and he wanted to see him. Having seen the party off Tony started to enter the hotel when he staggered at the door and asked to be assisted to the rear, where he died in a few minutes. Deceased had been working at the Nevada Chief at Butler and returned recently from that camp. He was well known throughout the southern country and was in Rawhide during the boom when he had a lease and also worked for others. Al Haag was reached at Millers by telephone and returned on the train.

Deceased was 54 years of age and born at Leavenworth, Kans., where he has a mother, one sister and two brothers still living. The other brothers are in Seattle. He was single and came to Nevada six years ago from the Black Hills, where he had been engaged for eight years. He was a member of the Catholic Mutual benefit association at his old home and also a member of St. Joseph's society. Apoplexy is given as the cause of death. The remains will be sent to Leavenworth Saturday morning.

FORTY MILES AN HOUR FROM OFF THE SIERRAS

A stiff breeze drove from the Sierras was blowing this morning and is likely to continue all day with possibly increasing velocity. At 9 o'clock the wind drove at the south-east or having registered forty miles an hour with a rising barometer.

FACTS OF BLOODY BATTLE

MOST SANGUINARY ENGAGEMENT IN THE MEXICAN REVOLUTION.

(By Associated Press.)
SAN PEDRO, April 16.—A battlefield survey shows the struggle for possession of this city was the bloodiest of the revolution. The battle climax was on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The last day alone the rebel wounded was 700 and 1200 rebels were wounded altogether. The dead may never be known, owing to the wide area of the battle. The federal loss was 3500 in wounded, killed and prisoners. Twelve hundred regulars were captured by the constitutionalists. Several "red flaggers," ex-Maximilian followers, were executed. The prisoners, including a major, three captains and ten lieutenants, were sent to Torreon.

BISHOP SPALDING PREACHES SUNDAY

SUFFRAGAN OF THE DIOCESE OF UTAH WILL VISIT TONOPAH.

The Rt. Rev. P. S. Spalding, D. D., Bishop of Salt Lake City, Utah, will preach at St. Marks Episcopal church on Sunday evening, April 19th, at 7:30, for the annual visit to the parish.

Bishop Spalding is the son of the late Rt. Rev. John P. Spalding, D. D., who was Bishop of Colorado from 1872 until his death, in 1902.

The bishop had charge of eastern Nevada from 1904 until the consecration of the late Bishop Robinson, and is now in charge of the state during the vacancy. He is an able preacher, and all are cordially invited to be present at the Sunday evening service.

Long Democrats will hold their state convention in Council Bluffs, July 21.
